

Hey everyone, Mr. Junik here with my Saturday morning update...

Let's start with our birthday people,

Ashley McCoy, Carly Howard have birthdays today!

Claire DeAngeles, Nick Arnold tomorrow and Megan Anderson's birthday is Monday... ENJOY your day everyone!

Ok... now some school news.

1. Remember that you have your last regular assignments due tomorrow night.
2. Starting Monday, everyone will be starting their Capstone projects
 - a. Every course has a project... Every project has milestone 1 due on the 17th, Milestone 2 due on the 24th and the fully completed project due by May 31st. Every final project will count as that course's final exam grade.
 - b. Oh course projects can be completed and turned in early... but you procrastinators must at least make sure to complete each milestone on time, for each course earn credit.
 - c. AP Students are exempt from that course's project.
3. Speaking of AP... AP exams start on Monday! Good Luck to everyone!
 - a. Make sure you get your e-ticket. It should be in an email 48 hours before your exam. If it is not in your email, please check your MY AP account.
 - b. If you have issues please contact your teacher.

Lastly, I hope you have a wonderful weekend... maybe get outside and go skiing one last time or perhaps you can build a snowman. Enjoy the snow... I'll talk to you again on Tuesday.
